PROFILE SUMMARY

A passionate and detail-oriented Computer Science graduate from Mercu Buana University with a GPA of 3.62, possessing strong expertise in front-end development, system analysis, and data analysis. With a robust foundation in project management methodologies such as Scrum and SDLC, I excel at designing user-centric products, creating seamless user interfaces, and analyzing complex systems. Proficient in programming languages like PHP, Laravel, JavaScript, and React JS, coupled with hands-on experience in data visualization, machine learning algorithms, and database management (SQL, Oracle). Certified in Scrum, database design, and data science, I bring strong analytical thinking, problem-solving abilities, and collaborative skills to deliver efficient solutions across diverse technical roles.
